

2019 Appalachian Community Foundations Institute

Are you seeking premier visibility for your company's expertise and services before a multi-state audience of community foundation leaders from central Appalachia and beyond? Philanthropy West Virginia provides such an opportunity for expertise, knowledge, and service providers who partner in our 2019 Appalachian Community Foundations Institute on June 6 & 7, 2019 at Stonewall Resort.

As a Program Sponsor for the 2019 Appalachian Community Foundations Institute (ACFI), your company will stand out in the premier regional and East Coast gathering of community foundations, United Ways, and other groups. The 2019 ACFI brings together board members, CEOs, trustees, staff, and volunteers of more than 50 organizations from West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Maryland, Kentucky, Virginia, and beyond. Our two-day program gives participants thought-provoking presentations and discussions, skill building sessions, resource sharing, and networking with peers.

This year's Institute focuses on asset & donor development, marketing, legal compliance, grantmaking, and community leadership. Our robust agenda features leaders whose national, regional, and local expertise offers your company tremendous visibility before a broad audience of decision makers and impactful foundations. The confirmed speakers include:

- Suzanne S. Friday, JD – Vice President of Legal Affairs with the Council on Foundations
- Richard King & Justin Lewis of the Three Pillars Initiative
- Kelly K. Shrock, President of The Community Foundation of Muncie and Delaware County (Indiana)
- Ralph Serpe & Bryan Tate of Building Unrestricted, LLC
- Philip Koch, Executive Director of the Community Foundation of Westmoreland County (Pennsylvania)
- Susie Nelson, Executive Director of the Community Foundation for the Ohio Valley
- Gerry Roll, President of the Foundation for Appalachian Kentucky
- Patty Showers Ryan, President of Your Community Foundation of North Central West Virginia
- Kathryn Davis Lamp, JD – Vice President & General Counsel of the Foundation for the Tri-State
- Jane Powell, Communications Director of The Greater Kanawha Valley Foundation
- Marian Clowes, Associate Director for Community Leadership of the Parkersburg Area Community Foundation ... and many others

The Appalachian Community Foundations Institute's investment opportunities include:

Sponsorship:	Amount:	Details:
Platinum Community Leader	$5,000	Provides your company with naming rights of the Institute, prominent visibility throughout the Institute, and signature placement on both Philanthropy WV's website and the Institute's page. Additional recognition includes: Delivering welcome remarks at the Institute opening, exhibit space/networking time, full page institute ad, and 3 comp registrations.
Golden Community Advocate	$2,500	Provides your company in introducing a general session keynote at dinner, breakfast, or lunch at the institute, introducing a speaker, exhibit space, ½ page ad, and two comp registrations.
Community Foundation Scholars	$2,000	Includes providing 4 to 6 institute scholarships, networking time, one comp registration, exhibit space, and a product/services webinar after the institute.
Silver Community Sensation	$1,000	Provides your company introducing a breakout workshop, exhibit space, ¼ page institute ad, and one comp registration.
Community Partner	$500	Provides your company with exhibit space during the Institute and half price of a non-member Institute registration.

This is an excellent opportunity to reach community foundations across the Appalachian region. For more information about being a program partner, please contact Paul Daugherty at 304.517.1450 or email: paul@philanthropywv.org.